Kia ora,

You're invited to a webinar discussing our progress on the Gas Transition Plan.

Gas Transition Plan Overview with Gas Industry Co

Gas Industry Co, along with MBIE, has been invited by the Government to develop a Gas Transition Plan setting out how decarbonisation in the gas sector aligns with the government's emissions reduction budgets.

On Thursday 6 October 2022 at 11am, Gas Industry Co Chief Executive Andrew Knight will outline the two pillars of work defined in the Gas Transition Plan Terms of Reference, the expected timetable for completing the plan, and some current hypotheses about the likely opportunities to transition.

Gas Industry Co has begun its work on these topics, and Andrew will discuss opportunities for gas consumers and other stakeholders to provide input. There will be a short Q&A session with Andrew in the second half of the webinar.

We like to warmly invite you to join the meeting online. If you are interested in attending, please register for the event here.

Please feel free to share this event with colleagues and other organisations who have a direct interest in the energy sector.
