

Welcome to Gas Industry Co's News Bulletin, an advisory issued periodically to draw attention to new and current consultations, workstream developments, publications and presentations.

Gas Quality Requirements and Procedures

Gas Industry Co has published a Gas Quality Requirements and Procedures document, which provides industry stakeholders with an understanding of gas quality-related legislation, how gas quality is managed throughout the production and delivery chain, and the availability of related information. The document takes into account the feedback received on the draft circulated for comment in February 2015. Gas Industry Co maintains this document and will update it from time to time to reflect any future changes and new information.

Maui Development Limited is leading other work aimed at improving gas quality arrangements and details of this initiative are also on Gas Industry Co's website.
