23 November 2017

Welcome to Gas Industry Co's News Bulletin, a periodic advisory of new and current consultations, workstream developments, publications and presentations.

In this issue:

- Second Revised Gas Transmission Access Code (GTAC) workshop – final action points list available.

Second Revised Gas Transmission Access Code (GTAC) final workshop action points list available.

Following the workshops held on 9, 10 and 17 November, First Gas has released a final list of action points – available here. These action points will be completed before the final version of the GTAC is sent to Gas Industry Co on 8 December 2017.

The final action points list reflects comments received on the initial action items list released on 20 November for stakeholder comments and feedback. It also proposes an additional step to give stakeholders the chance to comment on how First Gas responds to the design-related items raised at the November workshops. First Gas has identified five areas where it proposes to release redrafted provisions before 8 December, and will be inviting stakeholder comments on those provisions. These areas are identified in the first table of the final action items, and these selected provisions will be progressively released as they are available.

A reminder also that submissions and mark-ups on the Second Revised Draft GTAC released on 3 November are due by 5.00pm, Friday 24 November 2017. Please use the tabular form document suitable for marking-up. Submissions can be made here.
